Girl Scout Program Reaches 522 Youngsters in County

The first of a series of stories on the agencies which depend upon the Pickaway County Community Fund for their existence.

A total of 522 young girls are now taking part in the Pickaway County Girl Scout program.

These girls are the future citizens of our community, the mothers of the future.

Guiding the Girl Scout life of these youngsters are 223 adult leaders — all volunteers. They spend untold hours with the Girl Scouts, directing the wholesome activity of this time-proven force for good.

The Girl Scouts depend on the Community Fund for their existence. Without funds the program would cease. The money goes for such things as day camp, literature, badges and awards, insurance, taxes, adult training, development of new troops and administrative expense.

Currently there are four new troops being formed in the county. That brings the total to 39. There are 27 Brownies, 185 intermediate scouts and 60 senior scouts taking part in the program.

THE LOCAL GIRL Scout organization is composed of four "neighborhoods" — Ashville, Williamsport, Logan and Five Trails. Leading the activities are Mrs. Walter Heine, Logan; Mrs. Vernon Saunders, Five Trails; Mrs. Jesse Miller, Ashville, and Mrs. James Greenwood, Williamsport.

The 1958 budget of the Girl Scouts is a mere $2,800. That amount makes the extensive program of the scouts possible for the 522 youngsters in the county.

Part of the money will go for a new troop at Salt Creek Twp.

school. This is just one of the four new troops now under way.

Another sum will go for adult training. A meeting is planned for Circleville Oct. 7, in which all new Browne leaders will be trained in handling Browne activity, child guidance and organization.

The program is intended to provide special fields where an individual girl has the opportunity of developing her special talents and interests.

The local Girl Scout organization, now a part of the Ohio Trefoil Council, had a prominent part in the ceremonies leading to the formation of the new Council.

A gavel, made from a branch fallen from the Logan Elm, was presented to the Council president by Mrs. Bernard Young, who has been a Girl Scout "volunteer" for more than 30 years and was president of the Circleville-Pickaway Council for nine years.

THE DEFENSE chief said the manpower cutbacks were approved by President Eisenhower.

At the same news conference, Wilson discounted the importance of a Russian claim last month that Soviet weapons had made a successful test of an intercontinental ballistic missile.

Wilson said that the Russian report said "is probably actually true." But he contended the Soviets made only a general statement that they had developed a missile, that it had performed as it was intended to do, and that the test results indicated such projectiles could be directed toward any part of the world.

The secretary added that "the United States could have said the same thing months ago."

Wilson said that in his opinion the Russians don't have an operational missile. But he said they will have one someday "and so will we."

The missile rose straight up for perhaps 15 to 20 miles, then curved to the eastward and kept climbing on an arc as it zoomed into the blue.

Rising with a flaming tail, the missile discharged white smoke at high altitude like a skywriting plane. Then it turned on a more curving course and climbed away leaving a streak of gray.

It sounded in the air like a big, gleaming, cigar-shaped missile believed to be the Air Force Thor was blasted into the sky from the missile test center here at 9:25 a.m. today.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have been married almost four years and very happily, until recently. For a couple of years after marriage I worked to help put my husband through college and enjoyed the work, and missed it when I left.

Jack graduated two summers ago and now we have a lovely little son. We love each other very much but something is missing, I feel. We used to do lots of things together—fishing, hunting and the like. Now I can't go, as we haven't the money and can't leave the baby—and our parents aren't near enough to baby-sit, gratis.

I don't care for housework, though I do it to the best of my ability. There's a lot of work, keeping house and taking care of a baby. I don't mind, but feel like an unpaid maid.

I have no days to myself or alone with my husband—and he doesn't understand how important this is to me. He has very little to say to me. I like to paint, and be in community play groups, which he thinks is silly. I can't make him understand that I have to be a person in my own right.

I have a chance to take my son on a visit to my parents, and I fear, if I go, that I won't come back to being a plain dull drudge, such as I feel I am now. If I get out of a rut, I may want to stay out. Maybe I'm not adult enough to accept living in a little cage, day after day—in a small town, with nothing to do. I've no friends my age, even to talk to, over coffee. I guess I am lonely.

I love my husband very much, as I've said. But why am I so unhappy? I'm afraid of what may happen to my marriage if things continue this way.

M. H.

Soil Bank Outlook Poor

It is widely predicted that if good seed-bed conditions prevail in the winter wheat country during the next month and a half, the government's soil bank program will languish so far as wheat land is concerned.

Last fall the sign-up was immense because of drought conditions which suggested there would be a poor wheat crop. The farmer wanted to get some returns from his land. The mood is reversed now.

Subsoil moisture is generally good. If enough rain fails to moisten the topsoil, the bulk of the wheat land will be seeded.

Secretary Benson has already put his no-confidence blight on the soil bank program as a surplus reducer. This resulted in tighter rules. One of the rules, a top limit of $3,000 for payments to any individual, is unattractive out in the wheat country where big acreage is the rule.

It all adds up to the fact that a real wheat solution is yet to be found. Another effort to get a workable program going will doubtless be made unless Congress decides the problem is unsolvable except by time. That would be when population overtakes crop acreage and growers are permitted to raise all they can to supply assured markets.

In the meantime it would help if bad wheat market conditions froze the marginal growers out in states that had never been important wheat producers until the government came in with subsidies.

Scrapper and Felicia at Peace

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (P)—Everyone has his favorite cat-and-dog story, and mine is the tale of Felicia and Scrapper.

Scrapper was a friendly but tough airedale who bossed everybody on four feet in the suburban neighborhood where he dwelt. He did, that is, until the lady of the house accepted as a gift a fullgrown Siamese cat named Felicia.

"You're making a mistake," warned the master of the house. "You know Scrapper can't stand cats. He'll make mincemeat of Felicia in five minutes."

"We'll see," replied the lady of the house serenely.

Scrapper was across the yard when Felicia arrived. At sight of her he let out a high, excited yelp. Then, a cavalryman at heart, he charged.

Felicia, staring at him silently with Mediterranean eyes, waited calmly, a citadel in fur. When Scrapper was within reach, she biffed him on the nose twice with her left paw, and followed with three deadly rights.

The next instant she was on his back, raking his head and neck with razor claws. The next instant she was under him, raking his belly with all deliberate speed.

Scrapper, bleeding, drew off in surprise from this feline tornado. He had learned the tactical error of Pickett at Gettysburg.

He wasn't afraid. There was no room in his lion heart for fear. But he knew he had to find another way. He had to catch Felicia off guard.

So he began to stalk her, methodically, inexorably, hate in his canine soul. This cat had wounded his terrier pride. She must pay.

"That cat deliberately lured him to his destruction," the master of the house said later.

"Perhaps," said the lady of the house, who, despite her sorrow over Scrapper, couldn't restrain a small feeling of womanly pride in Felicia.

The kids buried Scrapper in the back yard with full military honors and the beating of a tin-pail drum. They tossed bright yellow dandelions in his grave and two big steakhones, and over it erected a cross made from an orange crate and wrote on it this epitaph:

"To the Scrapper, a Brave dog."

On warm afternoons Felicia used to like to lie on the grave, scratch in the dirt and sun herself lazily. One afternoon, two years later, the children found her there, calmly dead. So far as any could discover she was a victim of old age and lack of exercise.

They buried her next to the Scrapper after another grand mournful funeral and inscribed this epitaph, composed by the lady of the house: "To Felicia, a Smart Cat."

Side by side they sleep, the Scrapper and Felicia, beyond enmity.

The master of the house, who

Runover Money Mounts Up

By George Sokolsky

The national debt amounts to $273,496,000,000; the debt ceiling authorized by Congress is $275,000,000,000. As the debt increases the value of the dollar is bound to decrease. Our people tend to ignore the relationship of the debt to the value of the dollar because to a sufficient degree our manufacturers have been able to compensate for it.

On the other hand, it is becoming clear even to Washington bureaucrats that taxes cannot be overtly raised without risking political and social disturbances. However, taxes can be raised secretly by keeping the same rate but decreasing the value of the dollar. This device has been used in recent years and is one of the many causes for the present inflation. It is what the medieval kings did when they clipped coins around the edges, getting some silver but not permitting the coin to appear to be too small.

Approximately $70,000,000,000 has been accumulated in the Treasury under the heading of unexpended balances which gives the Administration an enormous nest egg, the legality of which could be questioned by the taxpayers. This unexpended balance, in a measure, makes the executive branch of the government free from the constitutional power of Congress to control the purse, a power which is unquestioned. The amount accumulated could continue to grow until the executive could, for a year or more, govern altogether without authorized appropriations. This is a perilous situation from the standpoint of constitutional government.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia makes the point that whereas Congress appropriated $66,800,000,000 for the current fiscal year, the carry-over of unexpended balances actually places at the executive's disposal approximately $137,000,000,000, which, if the accounting system were proper and honest would be the amount of the 1957-58 budget. Or if our system were absolutely correct, we would this year, expend our unexpended balance for which we have already paid taxes and therefore we would not be taxed all this year.

The expenditure of such a sum by this or any government is phenomenal and beyond necessity. Were we in an actual fighting war, it is doubtful if we would need such sums. The highest expenditure reached during World War II was $89,416,000,000 in 1945. What can be called the last peace time expenditure was in 1941, amounting to $13,262,000,000. In that year, the national debt amounted to $48,961,000,000 compared to the current $273,496,000,000.

It is important to note the correct amount available to the executive for expenditures during the fiscal year 1957-8, namely about $137,000,000,000. It will not be known until the year is over exactly how much has been expended, whether all of it is gone or whether the unexpended balances have been increased, giving the executive an even larger carry-over. We shall not readily know how much was wasted and whether the waste was deliberate.

The Republicans were critical of unexpended balances during the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations, but their criticisms ceased when they got into office. In fact, the unexpended balances are now larger than they ever were and without a justifiable excuse of war or depression.

Apparently Senator Byrd is carrying on this fight without too encouraging assistance from either the executive or many of his colleagues in the Senate. Naturally, politicians do not want to kill Santa Claus and that is exactly what would happen if the government seriously cut its costs of operations and followed Senator Byrd's ideas of economy.

An antique dealer has just bought the ancient Methwold, England, jail. Wonder if any old offenders were tossed into the bargain?

The sun paid by the antique dealer for the Methwold hoosegow was 14 cents. More remarkable than the price is how the town arrived at that figure.

After torrential rains flooded basements and snarled traffic an eastern city raised its lawn-watering restrictions. Not much silver to that cloud's lining!

Sunday is that gap in a football coach's life between his Saturday mistakes and criticism he gets from them from the Monday morning quarterbacks.

The National league is again up to its old trick—staging a pennant race so hot the World Series will seem like an anti-climax.

Basic Industry Spokesmen Eye 1958 Situation

Business Condition Predictions Vary Widely, Survey Shows

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market may fidget while waiting to get a clearer view of what's ahead for business. But at least some spokesmen for basic industries are willing today to stick their necks out with predictions for the rest of this year and for next year.

The forecasts range from "1958 will be a 'trough year,' a period between peaks of growth of demand" to "the short range view for business is good; the mid-term view is better, and the long-term view is the best that any nation has ever been privileged to anticipate."

The Spokesmen telling what's ahead for their industries are executives in steel, oil, chemicals, nonferrous metals, food, machine tools and farm equipment companies.

John L. McCaffrey, International Harvester chairman, sees continued improvement in his line in 1958, largely because "1958 cash farm income will probably be somewhat larger than in 1957."

He is one of the more optimistic of the farm equipment manufacturers who gathered in Chicago. Many of the others see next year's sales much like 1957. They look for better sales in the remaining months of this year, which they predict will top last year by from 5 to 15 per cent.

At a marketing conference today in New York, sponsored by the National Industrial Conference Board, other industry leaders are forecasting.

A Republic Steel vice president, Norman W. Foy, is the one with the "good, better, best" forecast for business in general. He sees a selling job ahead but looks for a modest upturn in late 1957 and 1958."

The one who thinks 1958 will be a trough year in his industry is B. L. Ray, vice president of Esso Standard Oil. He notes that the annual rate of growth in domestic demand for oil was 6 per cent until 1955. But this year's final figure, he predicts, will be 3.2 per cent over last year, and next year will drop to a 2.1 per cent growth over this.

Looking farther ahead, Malcolm Murdock, vice president of Ethyl Corp., sees an average annual gain of 3.9 per cent in the 1959-61 period.

Charles H. Winship Jr., general sales manager for Phelps Dodge, sees plentiful supplies of copper, lead and zinc between now and 1960, but a better supply and demand balance and less feverish ups and downs in prices.

John O. Logan, an Olin Mathieson Chemical vice president, looks for a 5 per cent rise in total dollar sales of chemicals and allied products in 1958.

Paul Mayfield, Hercules Powder vice president, expects an average annual gain of 7 per cent by the chemical industry from through 1961.

C. M. Beach, Cincinnati milling and grinding machines vice president, thinks industry spending for capital equipment will stay high in the next 12 months. The machine tool industry's big bet, he says, is that about 70 per cent of the tools now in use are at least 10 years old and need replacing.

Greenfield Offered Site for City Park

GREENFIELD (AP) — A Greenfield doctor and his wife have given this city an 11-acre tract in the southeast section of town for development for use as a public recreation area "with no segregation of race, creed or color" for at least 50 years. Dr. and Mrs. Walter Felson transferred the deed Thursday.

Liverpool, founded by Vikings, has always had kinship with the sea.

Liverpool, 750 Years Old, Survived Many Disasters

By OWEN EVANS
Central Press Association
Correspondent

LIVERPOOL, England — This summer Liverpool, one of the great and famous cities of the world, is celebrating in fitting fashion its 750th birthday.

One of the highlights of Liverpool's fiesta is a special honor granted by Queen Elizabeth II for the official changing of the name of the Liverpool Philharmonic orchestra to the Royal Liverpool Philharmonic.

The festival will mark the 750th anniversary of the granting to the city of its charter by King John in 1207. However, Liverpool as a settled, inhabited place is a great deal older than that.

First settlement of the area is made by Vikings who, finding the land pleasant, settled upon both sides of the Mersey river during the Eighth Century.

SOME HISTORIANS believe the name "Liverpool" is derived from the old Norse name of "Hlithar-poll" (The Place on the Slopes). Others think the name came from

Mr. and Mrs. George Weidenger and daughter Martha.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Long and sons Darrell and Charles had as their last Sunday dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Don Adams and daughter Karen of Circleville.

Gary Ater of Alexandria Va. and Mr. and Mrs. David Long and daughters Kimberly and Jill.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Binns visited on Thursday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simpson and family of Washington C. H.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Scott were Robert Scott of Columbus and Mrs. Edna Fulton and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gault of Chillicothe.

Dale Zimmerman of Clyde spent the weekend as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zimmerman and family of Fremont.

Monday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kelly and family were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Orinhood and family.

Elks to Have Dinner Dance For Their Ladies Saturday

Annual Event To Be Gala Party

The Circleville Elks will entertain their ladies Saturday night at a dinner dance preceded by a cocktail hour at the Elks Hall. This will be the annual Ladies Night and wives of the entertainment committee will preside during the cocktail hour which starts at 6:30 p.m. They will be Mrs. David Goldschmidt, Mrs. Paul Marshall, Mrs. William Rickey, Mrs. Leon Sims, Mrs. Harmon Bach, Mrs. David Cerney and Mrs. Walter Ehmling.

The dinner has been planned by two members of the house committee, Paul Hang and Harry Clifton. Members of an orchestra from Columbus will provide the dance music. Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Elks will present each lady with a corsage.

On the entertainment committee and responsible for the affair are: Walter Ehmling, Dr. David Goldschmidt, Dr. William Rickey, Leon Sims, Harmon Bach, David Cerney, David Crawford and Robert Huffer.

FROM THE FALL collection designed by Roxane comes this magnificent late afternoon into evening dress of black English wool. The slim shaped-to-the-figure silhouette features Roxane's new carousel flounce (slanting high on one side and low on the other) banded in rich black fox fur.

DOUBLE-BREASTED short jacket suit of black, gray and cognac shadow-plaided wool is from the William Fox fall and winter collection. Gray silk satin forms an ascot in contrast to the cognac-colored silk carnation at the shoulder.

Child Study Club Hold Hobo Supper

Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick was awarded first prize as the most typical hobo when Mrs. Richard Funk entertained the Child Study Club at a Hobo Supper at her home Monday evening.

National Business Women's Week to Be Observed Here

Observance of the 29th annual National Business Women's Week September 22-28, is officially announced by Governor C. William O'Neill and Miss Leonore M. Mills, State President of the Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

According to Mrs. G. W. Neff, president, the local BPW Club will observe the week with a dinner meeting at which a guest speaker will address the group. The meeting will be held at Wardell's Party Home at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Governor O'Neill paid tribute to the Ohio Federation in the proclamation which Chalmers Wylie, Assistant to the Governor, presented to Miss Mills saying: "The American business woman has earned universal good will for her untiring efforts in meeting the challenges of an expanding business world . . . business women dedicate themselves to maintaining the highest levels of business and professional transactions and through conscientious devotion to their various vocations have contributed significantly to the economic and social welfare of this State."

Slogan for the week is "Salute to the Women Who Work", which will actuate various programs to be presented by local, state and national groups. One out of every three women in the United States is gainfully employed, according to statistics compiled by the National Federation.

The Business and Professional Women's Club is the largest national organization for women who work. There are 3300 Business and Professional Women's Clubs in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and the District of Columbia. Ohio has 135 clubs with a membership of 10,600. The Federation is the only organization for women which includes all professions and occupations.

Yearbooks Ready For Circleville Garden Club

When the Circleville Garden Club meets Thursday at the home of Mrs. Hal Dickenson, 209 N. Scioto St., members will receive their new yearbooks.

Mrs. Ella Hornbeck will be in charge of the arrangement exhibit which will include vegetables or fruit.

A memorial service has been planned to honor the late Mrs. Fred Cook, charter honorary member of Circleville Garden Club.

Floyd Bartley, president, will conduct the business session of the club.

Open House To Mark Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Graham of Orient will observe open house Sunday from 2 to 5 at their home in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary.

They have one daughter, Mrs. George M. Jennings of Columbus.

Lutheran Men See Mental Health Film

Members of Lutheran Brotherhood and their friends made an appreciative audience when Dr. V. D. Kerns and Dr. F. W. Anderson presented an excellent program at the September meeting of the organization.

Two interesting and informative films, dealing with modern techniques in the treatment and cure of mental illness, were shown.

During the business session, plans were made for the October meeting, at which time the theme will be "Miniature Pumpkin Show".

The meeting was held Thursday in the parish house. Dr. Henry Swope was a guest.

HENNA WORSTED FLANNEL is combined with coarse-textured tweed for a dress and jacket costume designed by Claire McCordell. The long-sleeved dress has two soft patch pockets to match those on the jacket.

BLACK DRESS OF WOOL AND RABBITS HAIR — Every wardrobe, of course, must have a smart black dress. This one with removable white cuffs has a circular skirt.

Plan Your Wardrobe In Advance

By SUSAN BARDEN
King Features Syndicate

Advance wardrobe planning is the key to achieving well-dressed, well-groomed distinction, whether the clothing budget is large or small.

A little pre-season strategy will help to avoid that nothing-to-wear crisis so familiar to most of us. Lack of planning, or shopping on a hit-or-miss basis leads to costly and heartbreaking wardrobe errors.

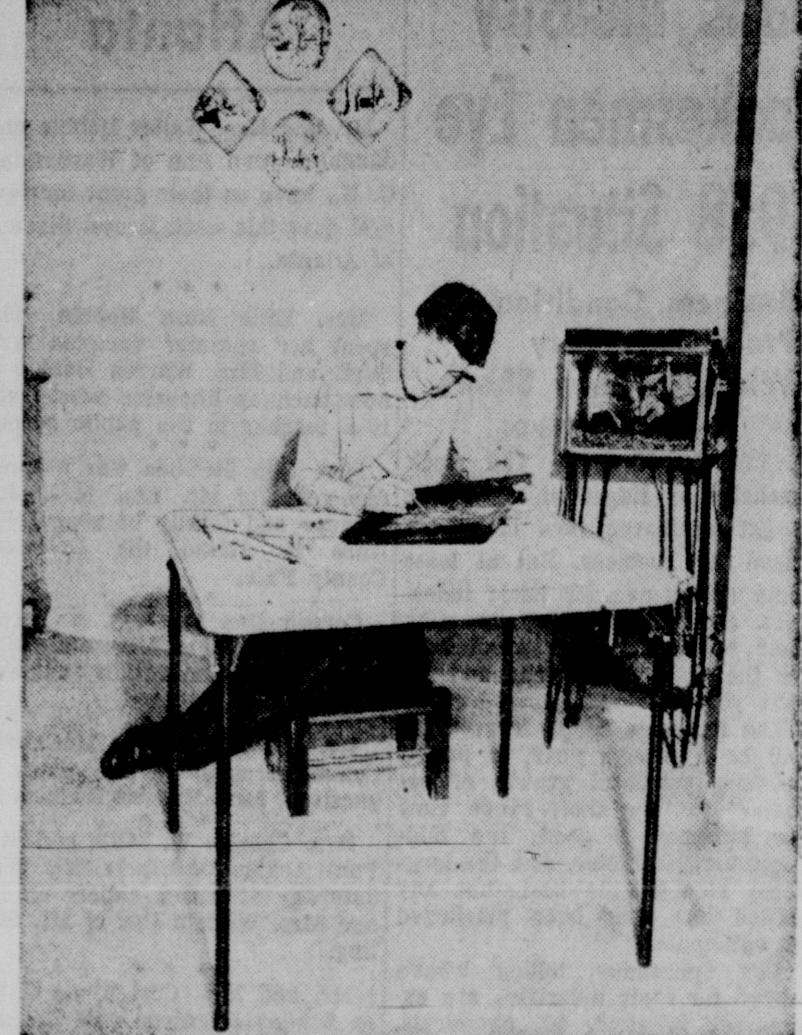

Shown here is a basic selection which happens to fall into the less expensive category. With a variety of accessories, a number of complete and perfect costumes are available for practically every occasion.

Featured, of course, is the smart black dress, without which no closet is complete. Its importance lies in its versatility, for a quick change of jewelry miraculously promotes it from utter simplicity to the glamour class.

Plaid is a great favorite for the coming season and is a perfect choice for daytime, whether for the office or a shopping trip in town. The frock shown is designed in a wide selection of colors to blend easily with practically all accessories.

You can substitute maple syrup for the water or milk called for in a regular confectioners' sugar frosting.

MAGIC TABLE TOP — Sonny can't damage this table with his painting. What's more it's resistant to scratches, stains and bleaches as well as fire and cigarette burns.

PHILADELPHIA — Latest reports from Russia indicate that the Soviets are attempting to solve the ever-increasing demand for medical doctors by training more women than men as physicians. Medicine is rapidly becoming a woman's occupation in the Soviet Union, where it is believed there are from 200,000 to 240,000 women doctors today.

In the United States, a wide margin both in the medical field and in the number being trained. There are an estimated 165,000 medical doctors in this country, of which only 11,000 are women doctors, according to the American Medical Women's association.

In 1955-1956 there were only 1,805 women enrolled in medical schools in the United States and Canada, plus 384 graduates. The United States has 1,573 women enrolled and 341 graduates in 82 medical schools.

Surprisingly, more than one-sixth of the women doctors trained in this country have received their education at one school—the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania.

The oldest and only medical school for women in the Western Hemisphere, it was founded here in 1850 by a group of men, chiefly Quakers. The college, its hospital and nursing school are in the East Falls section of the city.

EACH YEAR this center of feminine medical training graduates about 45 women as medical doctors. Its students come from all parts of the world and its roster of graduates is long and impressive. Many of its alumnae have achieved great success in medicine.

Dr. Catharine McFarlane, an 1898 graduate, has been one of the world's pioneers in cancer prevention and is still engaged in active research on the college staff.

While women doctors have achieved remarkable advances in the last century, the path has not been easy. In 1853 there was only one woman physician in the United States. She was Dr. Elizabeth Blackwell, founder of the New York infirmary, who studied medicine at Hobart college.

By 1949 the number of woman physicians here increased to 8,000. That same year Harvard Medical school graduated its first women, 12 receiving M. D. degrees.

The role of women in medicine has not been without its problems. When the college here first opened its doors after being chartered as the "Female Medical College of Pennsylvania," classes were conducted in three rented rooms in a downtown building. The college graduated its first class of eight in 1852.

Women leaders from throughout the world now take an active part in supporting the medical college, which has graduated more than 200 foreign women from 39 countries.

One of the 144 women on its national board is Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Its college development program is under the chairmanship of Mrs. John B. Kelly, mother of the former movie star, now the Princess Grace of Monaco.

In Dr. Marion Fay the institution has the only woman dean of a medical school in the Western Hemisphere. No longer do men look with disfavor at women doctors. Of the college's faculty of 282 members, 141 are women.

Drunkometer Flunks Test in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Police Sgt. Huel Hamm gave a demonstration of a drunkometer before a state legislative committee that was being urged to support a law making drunkometer tests mandatory for drivers suspected of drinking.

The drunkometer flunked its test. It failed even to come close to showing how much liquor four "guinea pigs" had downed.

Police Chief Roy Bergman said the machine is a mechanical gadget "and no better than the men operating it." Hamm is now a patrolman.

Daniel, Steadfast in Crises

HE WAS OBEDIENT TO THE WILL OF GOD

Scripture—Daniel 1-6.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
THE STORY of Daniel, a captive of Nebuchadnezzar in Babylon, is one of the most dramatic in the Old Testament. It contains so much material that it may be difficult to mention all the episodes in the lesson time.

Daniel lived in Babylon during the reigns of four kings, Nebuchadnezzar, Belshazzar, Darius and Cyrus. When Nebuchadnezzar conquered Jerusalem, he told Ashpenaz, chief of his eunuchs, to bring certain of the princely young people from Israel who were healthy, well favored, skillful in wisdom and knowledge, to his palace, to learn the language of the Chaldeans and to live at the court, eating meat from the king's table.

Daniel and his brothers were given the names of Belteshazzar for Daniel, Shadrach for Hananiah, Mishael for Meshach, and Azariah for Abednego. Now Daniel decided that he could not eat the king's meat or drink his wine because it was against Jewish custom. He persuaded Ashpenaz to let the four of them live on pulse (a porridge made of meal) and water for 10 days, and then compare their appearance with that of those who were eating the king's food. At the end of the 10 days, the Jewish youths were in better condition than the others.

Nebuchadnezzar had a dream which he couldn't remember in his waking hours, but which bothered him a great deal. He asked his magicians to tell him its meaning, but they were unable to because they didn't know what the dream was, which angered the king, who threatened them with death. They went to Daniel and he feared he and his brothers would perish with the rest if the dream were not revealed. That night Daniel had a vision from God in which the secret was given him, so he interpreted the dream for the king, telling him God had revealed it to him. The king made Daniel a great man.

When Belshazzar was king of Babylon, he gave a great feast to a thousand lords, with their wives and women friends. It must have to get women of experience capable of top policy positions who are willing to make the sacrifice to come here."

Many women who have reached the top find they cannot afford to give up the retirement and security benefits accrued in private business, nor to divest themselves of investments as required under the "conflict of interests" law governing federal appointees.

"The glory, fun and excitement of serving their country has to be weighed against the very real consideration of taking care of their needs in an older age," Miss Adkins said.

Combining responsibility at home and holding a public service position doubles the challenge for a woman, she added.

"It is also true that the minute you become a candidate you become a focal point for all kinds of publicity, good and bad," she explained. "I would remind women candidates they are the symbol of the opposition and are going to be the butt of criticism. This is just as true with the men, but women are more sensitive to criticism in general than men."

In "Women in the Public Service," a series of surveys compiled by the Women's Division of the Republican National Committee, of which Miss Adkins is also director, some 576,000 women are listed in federal government service as compared with 80,000 in 1923, when official government records were first issued.

"As far as women appointees in this administration are concerned," Miss Adkins said, "we are gratified we have as many as we have, 134. We are always trying to get more appointments on the federal level. But it is not easy to get women of experience capable of top policy positions who are willing to make the sacrifice to come here."

Cardinals Face Play and Pray Series at Cincy

Sweep of 3-Game Set Necessary Before Joust with Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals are riding a "play and pray" parlay at Cincinnati before opening what should be a three-game showdown in the National League race against the first-place Milwaukee Braves Monday night.

A sweep of the three-game weekend set at Cincinnati is a "must" for the Cards to guarantee they'll still be close to the Braves going into the final week.

The Braves, leading by four with a magic number of six, have won three straight, juking a slump that whittled their 8½-game bulge to 2½. Both the Braves and Cards have nine to play, with any combination of six Milwaukee victories and St. Louis defeats giving the Braves the flag.

The Braves play an afternoon game at Chicago today against the frisky Cubs, with southpaw Warren Spahn making a third pitch for his eighth 20-victory season.

In the American League, the pennant race is over for all practical purposes. The New York Yankees, with a six-game lead and a magic number of four, are at home to Boston tonight while Chicago's second-place White Sox are at Cleveland.

The White Sox prolonged the inevitable in the only game scheduled Thursday with Nellie Fox and Minnie Minoso slammimg consecutive home runs in a four-run 13th that defeated Washington 7-3.

The Cardinals, who have split eight games at Cincinnati but lead the Redlegs 11-8 for the season, bump into an old southpaw hex tonight with young Don Gross (6-9) starting for the Redlegs. Wimmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell (8-10) opens for the Cardinals.

Mizell was the Cards' lone southpaw until Thursday, when they bought Bob Kuzava (8-1) from Columbus of the American Assn. and Morris Martin (14-4) from Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League. Both have been around. Kuzava is 34; Martin 35.

To make room for the pair, St. Louis released relief veteran Hoyt Wilharm and sold infielder Eddie Miksis to Baltimore.

The Braves, with hard-hitting Eddie Mathews and Wes Covington ill and slugging Bob Hazle bothered by a sore shoulder, didn't figure to have an easy time with the seventh-place Cubs. The Bruins, with Ernie Banks on a homer hitting binge, have won five in a row and stand 9-10 against Milwaukee.

The Cubs will throw their best, right-handers Bob Rush (6-15), Moe Drabowsky (11-14) and Dick Drott (15-11), against the Braves, who figure to pick Bob Buhl (17-7) and probably Bob Trowbridge (7-5) after Spahn (19-10) pitches the opener.

Stella Crist Wins Ladies Golf Test

A "binge-bangle-bungle" contest provided competition on Ladies' Day at the Pickaway County Club this week.

Stella Crist was first; Sue Spires, second; and Betty Young and Dorothy Smith tied for third.

Dee Zehner had low putts and Mary Lou Vaughn second low putts. Jane Climer had low gross.

Robinson, Basilio Prep for Match

NEW YORK — Sugar Ray Robinson and Carmen Basilio were scheduled for final limbering up sessions at their training camp today before heading here for Monday's middleweight title bout at Yankee Stadium.

Basilio remained the favorite at 7-5 despite a late swing toward Robinson. The International Boxing Club expects about 40,000 for the fight, meaning a gate of about $700,000.

Wet or Dry Track, Torpid Looks Like Top 3-Year-Old

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — It looks as if Torpid, on wet track or dry, is America's top 3-year-old pacer for 1957. He appears headed for racing's triple crown.

The amazing son of Knight Dream-Torresdale captured the 12th annual $73,528.15 little Brown Jug in straight heats Thursday.

The flashy bay colt, owned by the Sherwood Farm of Irvington, N.J., won the first heat in the 16-horse, two-division classic on a dry track in 2:00.4.

Reserve Unit Loses 'Toughie' To Washington

Circleville High's reserve gridiron, the Kittens, dropped a heart-breaking 12-9 contest to the junior Lions of Washington C. H. yesterday on the winners' field.

A series of bad breaks in the second half prevented the Kittens from getting what could have been an easy victory. The long list of misfortunes included a touchdown called back, falling four inches short of a TD on a fourth down attempt, losing the ball three times on fumbles and 100 yards forfeited for penalties.

The Kittens' lone touchdown, in the second half, came on a plunge by quarterback Dave Smith. Smith passed to end Leo Moats for the extra point. The CHS reservists' final two points came on a safety in the last quarter.

Washington dominated early play, scoring both its touchdowns in the first half. However, the Kittens roared back in the final two stanzas to command the situation, but their comeback was spoiled repeatedly by miscues.

RESERVE Coaches John Adler and John Current said the Kittens showed signs of becoming real competitors in the second half. They especially were pleased with the passing of QB Smith who completed five for five.

The reservists' next contest is scheduled Thursday at Eastmoor High School, Columbus.

Ohio State '11 Gets Advice from Visiting Sooners

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes swapped part of their football practice time Thursday for some advice from the coach of the nation's top collegiate football team in 1956.

Oklahoma's powerful Sooners went through an afternoon workout in Buckeye Stadium. They were on their way to Pittsburgh for a game Saturday.

At the end of the day, Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson said his team achieved its great success primarily because the players always maintain high enthusiasm. He said that daily practice is also vital.

"If you can keep up a good practice tempo, you will do well in the game," he said.

Head, Knee Hurts Top Football List

COLUMBUS (AP) — Damage to the head and knee are the most frequent football injuries and the leading cause of disablement among players, an Ohio State University doctor says.

Dr. Richard Patton, assistant physician for the Buckeye football team, said most injuries are just a bump on the head or a bruised knee. Yet these areas are also the most likely to be permanently damaged, he added.

In recent years, Dr. Patton said, nine Ohio State football players have been dropped from the squad because of injuries. Six of the nine were dropped because of head or knee injuries, Dr. Patton said.

Anti-Communists Set Up Government in San Marino

SAN MARINO (AP)—Anti-Communists in this tiny republic today set up their own government to oppose the Communist regime that has ruled since the end of World War II.

The post card country was divided into two camps in a first-class political battle that erupted into fistfights Thursday night.

Today things were quiet. The Communist regime held the government palace. The Communists dissolved Parliament, where they had lost their majority because of defections, and called for new elections Nov. 3.

The non-Communists planned to move their government into another building. They said they would not agree to new elections and would fight the dissolving of Parliament.

Prof. Federico Bigi, a dour 37-year-old lawyer and school teacher, seemed to be the head of the non-Communists, who created a five-man executive committee to rule San Marino.

"But I cannot tell you who the five are," he told newsmen. "Our

1970 Census To Change U.S. Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—When the census taker makes his rounds in 1970, it appears likely he will find California entitled to equal representation with New York in Congress and in the Electoral College.

Computations based on Census Bureau projections of population trends show that California may gain seven additional seats in the House of Representatives after the 1960 census and five more seats for a total of 42 in 1970.

Meanwhile, New York appears destined to lose one of its 43 House seats in the 1960 reapportionment and hold its own in the next decade.

Since the electoral vote of the states for President and Vice President is based on representation in Congress—one vote for each House member and Senator—New York and California would end up in 1970 in a tie for the largest block of electoral votes with 44 each.

Based on the largest projection for each state, these other changes would occur in reapportionment of the House of Representatives:

In 1960, Florida would gain three seats. Michigan and Texas two each and Ohio, Arizona, Indiana, Maryland and Oregon one each. In 1970, Michigan would gain two more and Arizona, Colorado, Florida and Ohio would gain one each.

Losses in 1960 would include two seats from Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Arkansas, and one seat from Alabama, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Minnesota, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Virginia and West Virginia. Losses in 1970 would be two more seats in Pennsylvania, and one each in Alabama, Iowa, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire Oklahoma and Tennessee.

Harry Montelius showed slides of his vacation trips through the New England states and southern United States.

Mrs. Hoyt Timmons and committee, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kitchen; Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Coey; Edna Sherwood; Herbert Timmons; and Virgil Timmons served refreshments.

The next meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Oct. 1.

NEBRASKA GRANGE

Fifty-five members and guests were present for the regular meeting of Nebraska Grange Tuesday evening.

Reports of various committee chairmen were given. Mrs. Russell Hedges reported that she completed the Home Economics report for the year, and sent it to the Ohio State Grange, along with a scrapbook of newspaper clippings of all Grange meetings held during the past year.

Mrs. Ray Plum reported that the Grange Booth at the Pickaway County Fair placed fourth, and thanked everyone who had helped.

Members were urged to take their families to enjoy the carnival on Sept. 28, at the Coliseum, which is being planned by county Grange Youth.

A contribution was made to the Community Fund.

The program theme for the evening, "Down Memory Lane" was presented by Lecturer Mrs. John Barr. A vocal trio composed of Mrs. David Dill, Mrs. Boyd Fos-

Tax Receipts Hit New Peak

Sales Increase By 20 Per Cent

Sales tax collections in Pickaway County totaled $8,352.73 for the week ending September 7, according to a report released today by State Treasurer Roger W.

The figure was the highest weekly total of the fiscal year which began July 1. The total was 20 per cent higher than the preceding week of this year and 22 per cent above collections for the corresponding week of 1956.

Local sales tax receipts for the first ten weeks of the fiscal year are now 12 per cent above collections for the same period of last year.

Receipts from the sale of the prepaid tax stamps in the entire state totaled $3.5 million for the Sept. 7 week, an increase of 8.47 per cent over the same week of last year.

Grocer and Aide Both Become Dads

DALLAS (AP)—Rip Van Winkle, a drive-in grocery clerk, got a hurry-up call from his wife that the stork was hovering near.

He hurried to the hospital with her, leaving Bob Stoots to tend the store.

Five minutes later Stoots got a similar call from his wife. He called in a relief man.

Mrs. Van Winkle and her new son shared a hospital room today with Mrs. Stoots and her new daughter.

There has been a political reform wave in Marrakesh, Morocco. Snake charming is now forbidden.

A GROUP OF 4-H boys and girls, who won in a District talent contest, presented a square dance. Those taking part were Jayne Hay, Bonnie Beers, Rebecca Rockey, Patty Collins, Alan Dill, Douglas Dunkel, Alan Peters and Gary Thomas. Roger Schneider called for them.

A reading was presented by the lecturer, "Grandpa's Memory Lane". She was assisted by Arthur Sark, telling about "The Old Newspaper"; Ray Plum, "In the Old Country Store"; and Mrs. Homer Reber, "In the Old Country Church". Everett Beers and Jay Hay sang "The Little Brown Church". Mrs. Anna Hedges told of "The Old Covered Bridge". A. J. Dunkel reminisced, "In the Strawberry Patch". Mrs. Dunkel read "Strawberries", from McGuffey's Reader.

The group enjoyed singing "In a Little Red School House" and "School Days", led by Mrs. Ralph Dunkel. The vocal trio closed the program with "Silver Moon". Refreshments were served by the September committee, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peters, chairmen.

Booster night will be observed at 8 p. m. Oct. 1. This is an open meeting and guests are welcome.

Tax Receipts Hit New Peak

Sales Increase By 20 Per Cent

Sales tax collections in Pickaway County totaled $8,352.73 for the week ending September 7, according to a report released today by State Treasurer Roger W.

The figure was the highest weekly total of the fiscal year which began July 1. The total was 20 per cent higher than the preceding week of this year and 22 per cent above collections for the corresponding week of 1956.

Local sales tax receipts for the first ten weeks of the fiscal year are now 12 per cent above collections for the same period of last year.

Receipts from the sale of the prepaid tax stamps in the entire state totaled $3.5 million for the Sept. 7 week, an increase of 8.47 per cent over the same week of last year.

Grocer and Aide Both Become Dads

DALLAS (AP)—Rip Van Winkle, a drive-in grocery clerk, got a hurry-up call from his wife that the stork was hovering near.

He hurried to the hospital with her, leaving Bob Stoots to tend the store.

Five minutes later Stoots got a similar call from his wife. He called in a relief man.

Mrs. Van Winkle and her new son shared a hospital room today with Mrs. Stoots and her new daughter.

Las Vegas Listed Capital Of Live Entertainment World

By BOB THOMAS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The thing that impresses you on revisiting Las Vegas is the impact of television on the American entertainment scene.

No doubt about it, Las Vegas is the capital of live entertainment in the United States. Here you can see more star performers, more and better shows than in New York and Hollywood combined.

When I first came to this sinning and sunning resort a dozen years ago, the starring entertainers were the night club vets—Sophie Tucker, Joe E. Lewis, Ted Lewis, Harry Richman, and others.

The Tropicana is offering an original musical, scored by Gordon Jenkins and staged by the best Broadway talent. Starring Vivian Blaine and Dick Shawn, it is as lavish as the most costly TV spectacle.

Victor Borge is presenting his offbeat comedy and onbeat pianistics at the Sahara. He is the only person onstage during the show, a precedent in Las Vegas. Such a thing would have been impossible before Borge attracted it.

Now it's TV.

Entertainers who have made their names on TV can earn top salaries here. But that's not the important thing.

The remarkable change here is how TV has brought better entertainment. No longer do the hotels string together a series of standard vaudeville acts with a headliner at the close. Because of TV, the public expects slicker, smarter entertainment. And it's getting it.

do on the home screen every Tuesday night. Spike Jones, just off a 20-week run on TV, brought his zany troupe to the Riviera and is knocking 'em dead with a devasting satire of the hit parade.

Nat King Cole is doing some of his TV routines at the Sands and also telecasting his still unsponsored show from here. Another TV vet, Tony Martin, is headlining at the Flamingo.
